

Research Done in Conservative Area

According to the Regulations of Committee of National Conservation and Utilization on Biodiversity the research permission which is done in national park and wildlife sanctuary can be given not more than 1 year for each time although the research period is more. In this regard, the National Research Council of Thailand (NRCT) and National Parks, Wildlife and Plant Conservation (DNP) have a way out for the researcher. The researcher can apply with the same procedure and mention about the research period for the time that it could be. When the research period is nearly expired 1 or 2 month, please reapply by submitting just only extension letter and progress report, the researcher need not to start applying the permission like the new project does.
